APPLAUSE

for CJC's Unsung Heroes

Marcy Quill has been an AMAZING volunteer who has shown extraordinary devotion to our community. Most visibly, she has served on the CJCS (religious school) Board for a number of years. She began as chair of our annual school-wide Chanukah program and for the past two years has served as the school board president. Marcy has also served on the synagogue board. Marcy's sons, Max and Ian, became Bar Mitzvahs at CJC and Marcy recently celebrated her adult Bat Mitzvah with the congregation. She and her family can consistently be seen at services and activities and all are always ready and willing to lend a hand.

Jon Blankman has served as a teacher at the religious school for 14 years! He has proven to be an indispensable asset. Each Sunday morning Jon infuses his 7th graders with his passion for reading Hebrew and leading Prayer services. He gives his all to his students and provides them with the knowledge, skills and confidence to stand before the congregation on their Bar/Bat Mitzvah and lead services. Additionally, Jon is a substitute tutor for our B'nai Mitzvah children and is a constant and reliable presence in our music program, as a frequent soloist and member of the choir as well as the Klezmer band. His volunteer efforts are invaluable.
